GENERAL INFORMATION

All Child Exchange and Visitation Center programs provide accurate recordings of all parties' compliance with the rules and guidelines of the program as well as any current court orders.

All parties must complete an intake before any visitation or exchange can take place.

MONITORED EXCHANGES

This is a service that protects children from witnessing any conflict between their parents. The Child Exchange and Visitation Center staff maintains a neutral setting in which parents can exchange their children. The service is provided until issues are resolved or alternate arrangements are made by the parties involved.

SUPERVISED VISITATION

This service ensures the safety of children while visiting with their non-residential parents. Trained volunteers, assisted by security officers, provide a neutral and safe setting where parents and children can spend time together until issues are resolved and/or alternate arrangements are made for parenting time.

MONITORED VISITATION

Monitored Visitations are similar to Supervised Visitations, however, these visits are a less restrictive environment. The family may not be supervised for the duration of their visit. Typically, these visits are monitored a minimum of once every 15 minutes and documentation is kept on those observations. This is ideal for families that do not have a safe, neutral setting for visitation or when families are transitioning from Supervised Visitation to Monitored Exchanges.
